14. TAX OBLIGATIONS IN RELATION TO YOUR INVESTMENT

The Prospectus sets out some of the tax considerations you will need to know and consider. We advise you to read the tax section carefully before investing. It provides a general summary of the current UK tax law and HM Revenue & Customs practice relevant to your investments. It only looks at general tax aspects and not your specific facts and circumstances. Please note the Prospectus does not provide tax advice which you should seek from your tax adviser or financial adviser.

It is prudent to consider whether any income from your investment will be subject to UK income tax. If your income is above certain levels, you may be faced with a tax liability on any income. Interest distributions may have UK income tax deducted from them so you may be able to reclaim some of the tax.

Switching or selling shares may be subject to capital gains tax if your gains over a tax year period are above the relevant amount that is tax-free for that year (the so-called annual exemption).

Tax laws and policies are subject to change. If you have an international connection, you may be subject to more than one tax regime. We strongly advise you to consult your professional advisers regarding your own personal tax position, particularly if you reside outside the UK.
